In the early 20th century, the Rubinelli family bought Vajol, a 12-hectare depression at San Pietro in Cariano, Verona, where today they grow the grape types for Valpolicella wines.

THE WINE

Star-bright garnet red; clean, penetrating nutmeg spice against a backdrop of rich coffee, lifted by sour cherry in alcohol; dry, mid-bodied palate, distinct acidity, assertive but not aggressive tannins and intense, long-lingering fruit.

TRY IT WITH...

A superbly versatile through-the-meal wine for big occasions, as delicious with full-flavored pasta sauces as it is with red and white meats.
